Parent-volunteers help to keep the library open as much as possible, for the benefit of our students.

If you can spare a regular 1-2 hours each week to help out please contact:

The Anglophone Section Library

‘Library Rules’ posters to explain:

- How and when you can use the library.
- Behaviour in the library.
- Borrowing books, and what happens if your book is overdue / lost / damaged.

The poster is titled 'Anglophone Section Secondary Library' and features a blue header with a logo. It contains several sections of text and lists, including: 'When is the Library open?', 'How do I return a library book?', 'I'm in collège - can I come to the library during permanence?', 'What can I do in the library?', 'How can I borrow books?', 'What happens if I lose a book?', and 'Help - my book is overdue!'. There is also a blue call-to-action box for questions and a cloud-shaped box for suggestions.

Anglophone Section Secondary Library

When is the Library open?

- Check the library timetable to see the opening hours.
- The timetable is on the library door, the Anglophone classrooms and on Google Classroom.

I'm in collège - can I come to the library during permanence?

- Yes you can! You'll need to collect a slip from the vie scolaire first, then show it to the librarian.
- All students need to sign in when they come to the library.

What can I do in the library?

- You can... browse the books, read, study... quietly!
- Eating is not permitted.
- You cannot use your phone in the library.

How can I borrow books?

- Once you've chosen a book, take it to the librarian in charge and they will check it out for you.
- You can borrow a maximum of 2 books at a time, for up to 2 weeks.
- If you want to renew your loan, bring the book back to the library and ask the librarian to check it out for you again.
- If someone else has asked to borrow the book, you won't be able to renew it.

How do I return a library book?

Library books can be dropped in one of the return boxes in:

- The Library
- The Anglophone Teachers Book Room
- The Anglophone Office

Please don't leave books in the classrooms as they can get lost!

Help - my book is overdue!

- You will receive an email telling you that your book is due to be returned.
- After this email you have 1 week to return the book to the library.
- If you don't, your parents will be contacted and asked to pay for the book to be replaced.

What happens if I lose a book?

Tell the librarian in charge about lost / damaged books. Your parents will be contacted by email and asked to pay for the book to be replaced.

Any questions? Contact us on secondarylibrary@csianglo.org

Have you got any suggestions for new books? Or any improvements for the library?

You can write your ideas down and leave them in the suggestions box. We'd love to hear from you!

University Guidance: UNIFROG

We will use Unifrog to help Terminale students prepare to apply to university.

Unifrog is a university guidance platform focusing on courses offered world wide in English. <https://www.unifrog.org/>

Each student has an individual and personal student account.

Parent accounts are also available: these are ‘dummy’ accounts which allow you to explore Unifrog as if you were a student.

Video link here explains how parents can sign up to Unifrog. The parent code to use is LYOIParents50.

NB. Please don't create any genuine student accounts: the UG advisers actively use Unifrog to track student progress and 'fake' student accounts can make this difficult.

Finding an Internship (stage en entreprise)
